

Interactive cares- git flex grid Quiz

1 of 10 items

1. What does the `git diff` command do?
a. It shows the changes made in the current branch.
b. It shows the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It shows the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It shows the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

2 of 10 items

2. What does the `git merge` command do?
a. It merges the changes made in the current branch into the other branches.
b. It merges the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It merges the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It merges the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

3 of 10 items

3. What does the `git pull` command do?
a. It pulls the changes made in the current branch into the other branches.
b. It pulls the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It pulls the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It pulls the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

4 of 10 items

4. What does the `git push` command do?
a. It pushes the changes made in the current branch to the other branches.
b. It pushes the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It pushes the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It pushes the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

5 of 10 items

5. What does the `git fetch` command do?
a. It fetches the changes made in the current branch from the other branches.
b. It fetches the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It fetches the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It fetches the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

6 of 10 items

6. What does the `git checkout` command do?
a. It checks out the changes made in the current branch to the other branches.
b. It checks out the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It checks out the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It checks out the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

7 of 10 items

7. What does the `git reset` command do?
a. It resets the changes made in the current branch to the other branches.
b. It resets the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It resets the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It resets the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

8 of 10 items

8. What does the `git revert` command do?
a. It reverts the changes made in the current branch to the other branches.
b. It reverts the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It reverts the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It reverts the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

9 of 10 items

9. What does the `git stash` command do?
a. It stashes the changes made in the current branch to the other branches.
b. It stashes the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It stashes the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It stashes the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.

10 of 10 items

10. What does the `git pop` command do?
a. It pops the changes made in the current branch to the other branches.
b. It pops the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches.
c. It pops the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.
d. It pops the changes made in the current branch and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches and the changes made in the other branches.